ABSTRACT

This annotated bibliography is designed to assist Canadian educators in choosing a variety of appropriate resources to support "Social Studies: A Curriculum Guide for the Elementary Level (June 1995)." The items listed are intended to promote the philosophy of resource-based learning in which the curriculum is supported by a variety of resources and instructional approaches. The resources in this bibliography include video recordings, audio cassettes, kits, games, 16mm films, CD-ROM, computer software and various print resources. This multi-resource approach provides students with opportunities to interact with a wide range of current materials in a variety of learning situations. Suggestions for community resources are included. (EH)

Foreword

Steps to a Multi-Resource Approach to Teaching Social Studies

This bibliography is designed to assist educators in choosing a variety of appropriate resources to support Social Studies: A Curriculum Guide and Activity Guide for the Elementary Level (June 1995). Carefully selected, appropriate materials are key to the effectiveness of the Social Studies program.

The items listed are intended to promote the philosophy of resource-based learning in which the curriculum is supported by a variety of resources and instructional approaches. The resources in this bibliography include videorecordings, audiocassettes, kits, games, 16 mm films, CD-ROM, computer software and various print resources. This multi-resource approach provides students with opportunities to interact with a wide range of current materials in a variety of learning situations. It is important that human resources be accessed as well. Every community has capable people who can enrich educational experiences.

When using this bibliography as a selection aid, the following suggestions may be helpful.

Background Review

The resources in this bibliography are recommended to support the Social Studies curriculum. However, it remains the responsibility of educators to preview and select materials that best meet the needs of their particular schools and communities. These should be selected in accordance with the school division's materials selection policy. Several publications available from the Book Bureau (see "Distributor Directory") provide further assistance in the selection process. These include:

- Learning Resource Centres in Saskatchewan: A Guide for Development, 1988 - provides guidance for developing a selection policy and suggests criteria for selection.
- Diverse Voices: Selecting Equitable Resources for Indian and Métis Education, 1995 - suggests strategies for recognizing and dealing with bias in resources.
- Indian and Métis Education Policy From Kindergarten to Grade XII, 1995 - provides rationale and guidelines for integrating Indian and Métis materials into curricula.
- Selecting Fair and Equitable Learning Materials, 1991 - suggests strategies useful for recognition of bias and stereotypes, and provides rationale for teacher concern.
- Selection Aids for Saskatchewan Schools, 1990 - lists resources useful in the selection process.

- bibliographies developed by Saskatchewan Education, Training and Employment to support other elementary level curricula.

Analyzing Present Resources

- The bibliography should be cross-referenced with the school resource centre catalogue in order to identify suitable resources already present in the school library collection:

- Materials in the present collection should be assessed based on the needs of the curriculum, the community, the students and teachers. Considerations of needs include:

  (i) reflection of curricula philosophy
  (ii) accuracy, currency, readability
  (iii) relevance, adaptability and versatility of resources.

Points for Consideration in Acquiring New Resources

- Library wholesalers and distributors are sometimes willing to provide a display of recommended materials at the school division level so that educators may have the opportunity to preview materials before purchasing.

- Some distributors will provide preview copies of materials on a trial basis or will allow purchased items to be returned with a small restocking fee. For example, the Book Bureau will usually permit inappropriate items to be returned if they are in saleable condition. However, a 10% restocking fee of up to $2.00 per item will be charged.

- The video programs available for duplication from Media House Productions are high quality programs that can be acquired at a nominal cost. Schools are responsible for costs of postage, a duplication charge of $1.00 per title, blank tape and applicable taxes. A 10% reduction on the duplication charge is available when a complete series is ordered. Blank videotape may be supplied by the school or purchased from Media House Productions. Duplication order forms are available from Media House Productions. For further information, please consult the current Media House Productions catalogue of audiovisual resources. One is sent to each school yearly. The address, and telephone and fax numbers are listed in the "Distributor Directory."

Educators interested in purchasing material should contact the distributors listed in the "Distributor Directory" at the end of this document or place a special order for all materials (except Media House Production's materials) through the Book Bureau. For further information please contact the Book Bureau. The address, telephone and fax numbers are listed in the "Distributor Directory."

It should be noted that prices quoted do not include applicable taxes and are subject to change, but will serve as a guide to approximate costs. Book Bureau prices include shipping and handling fees, but most other distributors have an additional charge for shipping and handling. Schools are usually responsible for shipping and handling fees.

The 16 mm films listed may be borrowed from Media House Productions (except one title, which may be borrowed from UNICEF).

Please refer to the section "How to Use the Bibliography" for information on efficient use of the document.

It is hoped that these practical guidelines will assist educators in developing a highly useful, suitable collection of resources that meets the needs of both students and teachers.

Teachers are reminded that resource-based courses of study can be enhanced through the use of additional materials such as the following:

- newspapers and magazines
- environmental print such as signs
- posters, local maps, tourism brochures
- television and radio programming
- video and audiocassettes
- human resources, such as Elders and other local community members
- local resources, such as community histories or memoirs
- student writing

Saskatchewan Education, Training and Employment has provided, free of charge, one copy of this bibliography to each school with students in Grades 1 to 5. Additional copies may be purchased from the Book Bureau or schools may photocopy this publication. New recommended materials will be announced through a future Learning Resource Materials Update publication.

Key Resources

The following short list of key resources is included in Elementary Social Studies: An Information Bulletin for Administrators (April 1995). How to Use the Bibliography

The bibliography is organized into four sections: "Titles and Descriptions," "Grade and Unit Index," "Media Index" and "Distributor Directory."

Titles and Descriptions

Titles are listed alphabetically. The citations provide bibliographic information, sources, annotations, and suggestions for use. The abbreviation hdc. denotes hardcover edition and pbk. denotes paperback edition. ISBN is an abbreviation for International Standard Book Number, which can usually be used as an order number. Dup. is an abbreviation for duplication which means that the video is available for duplication from Media House Productions. Unp. means that the book is not paginated. N.d. means that the publication is not dated. Ed. stands for editor or edition (depending on the context). (CAN) preceding the annotation indicates that the author or producer is Canadian; (SK) denotes Saskatchewan; and (I/M) indicates that the material has substantial Indian, Inuit or Métis content.

An example of a citation for print is:

Title Media Designation Author Series Publisher Distributor

Billy's World (Print-Fiction). Weber-Pillwax, Cora. (Native Education Series). Reidmore Books (REI), 1989. 24 p. ISBN 0-919091-54-7 ($6.25 pbk.).

Date Collation Order Number Price

Annotation

(CAN, I/M) Billy finds what has been missing in his life when he goes on the trapline with his grandpa and feels the warmth and safety of the woods. The text is easily read and is illustrated in muted, soft-focus colour.

Suggested Use: Grade 2-Unit 1
Other Use: English Language Arts

An example of a citation for audiovisual material is:

Title Media Designation Producer

Morning Tour: An Adventure in Canada's Parliament (Video). House of Commons, Public Information Office (MHP), 1992. 24 min. Dup. order no. V8218.

Distributor Date Length Duplication Order Number

Annotation

(CAN) Designed to help young people learn more about Canada's Parliament, this program takes students on a tour of the Parliament buildings.
Suggested Use: Grade 5-Unit 4

Note: "Suggested Use" provides ideas for the grade(s) and unit(s) for which the material could be utilized. "Other Use" lists other curriculum areas for which a resource has been recommended. These resources have been recommended for the elementary level unless otherwise noted. Of course, teachers will have other suggestions. Saskatchewan Education, Training and Employment encourages educators to employ the resources in as many learning situations as they think appropriate.

Grade and Unit Index

Titles are listed alphabetically according to their respective grades and unit or as teacher references.

Media Index

Titles are listed alphabetically under each media designation.

Distributor Directory

The abbreviations, enclosed in parentheses, following the publisher or producer, represent the distributors. The full names and addresses of these companies are given in this section.

Note: Special orders may be placed for all materials (except Media House Production's materials) through the Book Bureau.

Adventure Holiday (Print-Non-Fiction). Brearley, Sue. A & C Black (FHW), 1991. 25 p. ISBN 0-7136-3382-4 ($16.95 hdc.).

Using a journal format along with good photos, three children recount their experiences on a camping holiday. Although all the children have disabilities, they hike, swim, barbecue and have fun.
Suggested Use: Grade 2-Unit 3

The Adventures of Connie and Diego. Rev. ed. (Print-Fiction). Garcia, Maria. (Fifth World Tales Series). Children's Book Press (WEI), 1987. 24 p. ISBN 0-89239-028-X ($17.25 hdc.).

Written in both English and Spanish, this story tells of a pair of twins born with skin of many colours. When the people in their community laugh at them, they run away. But when the tiger points out to them that they are still human, in spite of their colours, they return home and ignore the teasing.
Suggested Use: Grade 3-Unit 2

Aekyung's Dream (Print-Non-Fiction). Paek, Min. Children's Book Press (WEI), 1988. 22 p. ISBN 0-89239-042-5 ($17.25 hdc.).

Aekyung, a young Korean girl who recently immigrated to the U.S., struggles with the new language and culture. A dream inspires her to persevere. Gradually, she is accepted by her peers.
Suggested Use: Grade 3-Unit 2

Agriculture and Me: A Resource Book for Teachers. 2nd ed. (Print-Non-Fiction). Hochachka, Nadia and Carmen Biddy. Alberta Agriculture (ALBAG), 1989. unp. No order no. is required. ($Free coil-bound).

(CAN) With separate books for Grades 1, 2 and 3, this comprehensive resource contains a wealth of information about prairie agriculture as well as activity suggestions, puzzles and games on blackline masters. Although the materials feature Alberta agriculture, most of the information also applies to Saskatchewan. Each book includes a table of contents but has no index.
Suggested Use: Grades 1, 2, 3-Unit 3

Ainsley and Amanda (Print-Non-Fiction). Humes, Kathryn and Wilma Lloyd-Davies. Kathryn Humes Books (KHB), 1991. ISBN 1-55056-105-7 ($8.00 pbk.).

(CAN) Comparing the lives of two friends, Ainsley who lives in town and Amanda who lives on a Hutterite colony, the story and the black and white drawings provide a positive, informative look at the Hutterite lifestyle.
Suggested Use: Grade 3-Unit 1

Alberta's Métis: People of the Western Prairie (Print-Non-Fiction). Schreiber, June, et al. Reidmore Books (REI), 1991. 79 p. ISBN 0-919091-32-6 ($16.95 pbk.). Teacher's Resource - ISBN 0-919091-58-X ($35.00 coil-bound).

(CAN, I/M) This simple story, along with photos, drawings, timelines and a game, tells about the major historical events and raises historic and current issues relating to Métis Peoples. Activity suggestions encourage students to do further research, interpret maps and documents shown, and explore related cultural issues in their own communities. Some terminology is outdated, but this does not outweigh the usefulness of the information. Included are a table of contents and a glossary, but there is no index. A teacher's guide is available.

Suggested Use: Grade 4-Unit 2; Grade 5-Unit 2

Albertans: Past, Present, Future (Print-Non-Fiction). Dueck, Kathyrn G. and Kathyrn E. Galvin. (Kanata Series). Weigl (WEI), 1984. 96 p. ISBN 0-9690637-7-6 ($14.95 hdc.). Teacher's Guide - ISBN 0-9690637-6-8 ($23.95 coil-bound). Media kit - No order no. is required. ($81.95/2 filmstrips, 3 audiotapes, 1 script booklet).

(CAN, I/M) Written in textbook style, this resource deals with Alberta's First Peoples, early settlers, the Métis, the Great Depression, the war years, famous people, and modern times. Although the focus is on Alberta, much of the material applies to Saskatchewan as well. The factual text is interspersed with stories, glossaries, and things to think about. The book contains many photos and diagrams. Included is a table of contents, but no index. A teacher's guide provides suggested approaches and blackline masters.
Suggested Use: Grade 4-Unit 2

Alfred Reading Series (Print-Fiction). Pelletier, Darrell W. Gabriel Dumont Institute of Native Studies and Applied Research Inc. (BB), 1992. unp. ($6.95 each pbk.).

Titles in the series include:	Order no.
Alfred's First Day at School	BB 6934
Alfred's Summer	BB 6933
The Big Storm	BB 6935
Lisa and Sam	BB 6936
The Pow Wow	BB 6937

(I/M, SK) Written and illustrated by a Métis author from Moose Jaw, each book tells of Alfred's experiences and feelings as indicated by the title. Colour pictures complement the short narrative.

Amikoonse (Little Beaver) (Print-Fiction). Plain, Ferguson. Pemmican Publications (PEM), 1993. 32 p. ISBN 0-921827-34-2 ($9.95 pbk.).

(CAN, I/M) In this picture book allegory, the beaver Amikoonse escapes from the boy with whom he has always lived and enters the bush for the first time. There he is given advice from animals who direct him to his natural environment, the pond. When he finds his true home, Amikoonse discovers his identity, physically and spiritually. Included is a glossary of Ojibway words that have been used in the book.
Suggested Use: Grades 1, 2, 3, 4, 5-Unit 1

Angel Child, Dragon Child (Print-Fiction). Surat, Michele Maria. Scholastic (SCH), 1983. 35 p. ISBN 0-590-42271-5 ($3.99 pbk.).

Ut, a timid child from Vietnam, endures her problems with the English language and the classmates' teasing like an angel, until one day the dragon explodes with a tussle in the snow. The principal's "punishment" leads to greater understanding and friendship. A two-page section provides information about Vietnamese names. The illustrations are by Vo-Dinh Mai.
Suggested Use: Grade 3-Unit 1

Annette's People: The Métis (Print-Non-Fiction). Rempel, David C. and Laurence Anderson. Plains Publishing Inc. (BB), 1987. 104 p. Order no. BB 7041 ($32.55 hdc.).

(CAN, I/M) When Annette finds out that she is Métis, she researches her peoples' history, heritage, and culture in Alberta. This well told, interesting story has photos or drawings on most pages. The teacher's guide may be useful if the student book is dealt with in depth. (Some terminology is dated.) Included are a table of contents and a glossary.
Suggested Use: Grade 4-Unit 2

Annie and the Old One (Print-Fiction). Miles, Miska. Little, Brown (LIT), 1971. 44 p. ISBN 0-316-57120-2 ($10.95 pbk.).

(I/M) This beautifully told story is about a Navajo girl who tries to delay her grandmother's death. In a metaphor, the death is connected with the weaving of a rug.
Suggested Use: Grade 3-Unit 2

Anti-Bias Curriculum (Video). Pacific Oaks Bookstore (POB), 1988. 30 min. No order no. is required. ($35.00 U.S.).

Based on the book Anti-Bias Curriculum: Tools for Empowering Children, (annotated separately), this video offers practical suggestions for adults to help young children develop positive attitudes regarding gender, disabilities, culture and race. A discussion guide is included. This video is available on loan through each regional office. (Borrow through your director of education.) This would be a suitable resource to make available on loan to parents/caregivers or to use in inservice with them.
Suggested Use: Teacher Reference
Other Use: Kindergarten

Anti-Bias Curriculum: Tools for Empowering Young Children (Print-Non-Fiction). Derman-Sparks, Louise and The A.B.C. Task Force. National Association for the Education of Young Children (BB), 1989. 149 p. Order no. BB 1091 ($9.10 pbk.).

This comprehensive resource offers numerous suggestions for helping people begin to confirm, transcend and eliminate barriers based on culture, race, gender or ability. It explains that adults must examine and deal with their own biases before empowering children to view others with an open anti-bias attitude. By using the principles and methodology, this material will help teachers to develop an anti-bias curriculum suitable to their particular communities. Included is a table of contents. This resource has been produced in cooperation with the Anti-Bias Curriculum (A.B.C.).

The video Anti-Bias Curriculum is a supplement available for this resource which can be used with the book or independently. It is annotated separately in this bibliography.
Suggested Use: Teacher Reference
Other Use: Kindergarten

The Apiarist (Video). (Rural Route Series). Saskatchewan Agriculture (MHP), 1974. 14 min. Dup. order no. V5422.

(SK) This video, filmed on a farm near Nipawin, shows how honey is produced. Included are pictures of bees and honeycombs. Because it is made for an adult audience, some terms will require explanation.
Suggested Use: Grade 4-Unit 3

An Arctic Community (Print-Non-Fiction). Kalman, Bobbie and William Belsey. (The Arctic World Series). Crabtree (IRW), 1988. 57 p. ISBN 0-86505-147-X ($20.95 hdc.). ISBN 0-86505-157-7 ($11.20 pbk.).

(CAN, I/M) This is an informative book about various aspects of life in the Arctic. Each section is brief, interesting, easy to understand and well illustrated.
Suggested Use: Grade 3-Unit 2; Grade 5-Unit 1

Arctic Memories (Print-Non-Fiction). Ekoomiak, Normee. NC Press (UTP), 1988. 28 p. ISBN 1-55021-005-X ($19.95 hdc.).

(CAN, I/M) A nostalgic but informative look at the past and present life of the Inuit at James Bay is presented in this book. Each page or two-page spread deals with a different topic (e.g., fishing, games, travelling, animals). The brief text is written in both English and syllabic, and is beautifully illustrated.
Suggested Use: Grade 5-Unit 1

The Arctic World Series (Print-Non-Fiction). Please refer to the title: An Arctic Community.

Ashanti to Zulu: African Traditions (Print-Non-Fiction). Musgrove, Margaret W. Puffin Pied Piper (PBC), 1976. unp. ISBN 0-14-054604-9 ($5.99 pbk.).

This alphabet book, with each letter representing a different African nation, has been the recipient of ten awards. Each of the 26 illustrations and paragraph captions provides information about a people's lifestyles and beliefs.
Suggested Use: Grade 3-Unit 2

Atariba and Niguayona: A Story From the Taino People of Puerto Rico. Rev. ed. (Print-Fiction). Rohmer, Harriet and Jesus Guerrero Rea. (Tales of the Americas Series). Children's Book Press (WEI), 1988. 24 p. ISBN 0-89239-026-3 ($17.25 hdc.).

In this folktale, the hero searches for a miracle fruit to restore the health of his friend. After a long, difficult journey the search is successful. The text appears in both English and Spanish and is beautifully illustrated in vivid colours.

Suggested Use: Grade 3-Unit 2

The Aztecs (Print-Non-Fiction). Please refer to the title: Facts, Stories, Activities Series.

Baba's Macedonian Socks (Print-Fiction). Gigeroff, Alex K. J.C. George Enterprises (JCG), 1993. unp. ISBN 0-921369-14-X ($9.25 pbk.).

(CAN) When two children receive brightly coloured socks their grandma has knit for them, they can't decide whether to wear them or save them. They visit the wise old shepherd whose music inspires them to dance and sing in their new socks.
Suggested Use: Grade 1-Unit 2

The Baitchopper (Print-Fiction). Cameron, Silver D. James Lorimer (FMC), 1982. 166 p. ISBN 0-88862-598-7 ($6.95 pbk.).

(CAN) Set in a fishing village on the East Coast, this story centres around a strike in 1971. The strike causes tensions and divisions within the village and eventually leads to two boys being set adrift in a boat on a stormy night.
Suggested Use: Grade 5-Unit 2

Bangles, Badges and Beads (Print-Non-Fiction). Deshpande, Chris. (Friends Series). A & C Black (FHW), 1990. 25 p. ISBN 0-7136-3235-6 ($13.95 hdc).

Students bring jewellery and badges to class where they discuss their use and purpose. The class then visits a place where jewellery is made. A section of the book shows the children making interesting jewellery out of everyday materials. This is one of a series that features children from several cultures.
Suggested Use: Grade 1-Unit 2

The Bead Pot (Print-Fiction). Poirier, Thelma. Pemmican Publications (PEM), 1993. unp. ISBN 0-921827-30-X ($9.95 pbk.).

(CAN, I/M) Toniya bridges the generations when she bequeaths to her great granddaughter the bead pot that she received from her great grandmother. The bead pot has bridged lifestyles as it travelled with Toniya from a childhood tipi to an adobe house, to a trailer home, and finally to a lodge. The story and colour illustrations by Nona Foster combine realism and the supernatural.
Suggested Use: Grade 1-Unit 4

Bears and Berries (Print-Fiction). Gessler, Trisha. (Queen Charlotte Islands Reading Series). WEDGE (PEP), 1983. unp. ISBN 0-88865-020-5 ($16.00 hdc.).

(CAN, I/M) Sunshine, a young Haida girl in British Columbia, explains the customs of her People in the Eagle clan. She recounts the excitement of berrypicking, eating dried salmon, and being frightened by a wandering bear. Sunshine's mother warns the girl that she must be certain to show respect to any bear she meets. Her mother relates the legend of the bear mother and her cubs to explain why bears are carved on totem poles in front of houses.
Suggested Use: Grade 5-Unit 2
Other Use: English Language Arts
Science

Beaver, Beads and Pemmican: Canada's Fur Traders (Print-Non-Fiction). Farnham, Katherine. Canadian Social Sciences Ltd. (APL), 1987. 92 p. ISBN 0-919913-02-4 ($16.95 hdc.). ISBN 0-919913-03-2 ($13.95 pbk.).

(CAN, I/M) The book provides a chronological, textbook style look at the fur trade as it occurred across Canada. It features maps, drawings and archival photos. Reading may require adult assistance. This book includes a table of contents and an index.
Suggested Use: Grade 5-Unit 2
Other Use: Native Studies 10

Beef: From Pasture to Platter (Video). Beef Information Centre (BIC), 1985. 7 min. No order no. is required. ($25.00).

(CAN) The video explains the role of beef production as an integral part of Canadian agriculture.
Suggested Use: Grade 5-Unit 3

The Big Tree and the Little Tree (Print-Fiction). Speare, Jean E., ed. Pemmican Publications (PEM), 1986. unp. ISBN 0-919143-21-0 ($6.95 pbk.). ISBN 0-919143-23-72 ($16.00 big book).

(CAN, I/M) For years, the mature tree flaunts its superior size and value to the animals who depend on it for food and shelter. When a nearby little tree matures, it recognizes that the older tree no longer feels useful and generously reminds the older tree of the many years during which the big tree has protected the younger tree. The story concludes that the young tree's most important contribution is its loving care of the elder one. A moral tale about respect for Elders, the book offers bold black and white illustration by Terry Gallagher.

The Cuna Indians: Island Exiles (Video). Phoenix Films (ITF), 1983. 22 min. Order no. 71991 ($480.00).

(I/M) The Cuna Indians live in relative isolation on islands off the coast of Panama. The video follows some families as they gather, hunt, fish, farm, build houses, enjoy recreational activities, make utensils and clothes, and dance. It explores the effects of the traditional lifestyle on the young people in their society. Because the video was made for an adult audience, the teacher may need to assist with some vocabulary.
Suggested Use: Grade 3-Unit 3

Danger on the Tracks (Print-Fiction). Freeman, Bill. (Adventures in Canadian History). James Lorimer & Co. (FMC), 1987. 171 p. ISBN 0-88862-873-0 ($16.95 hdc.). ISBN 0-88862-872-2 ($5.95 pbk.).

(CAN) This historical fiction book set in Ontario during the 1870s features two children who leave home and find work with a crew building the railroad. They become embroiled in a bitter feud between the owners of a stagecoach line and the owners of the railroad. Although some students may find this story difficult to read, it is an exciting adventure story and portrays both historical events and a full range of human emotions.
Suggested Use: Grade 5-Unit 2

Delhi Visit (Print-Non-Fiction). Morris, Ann. A & C Black (FHW), 1989. 25 p. ISBN 0-7136-3098-1 ($12.95 hdc.).

School in the Bush (16 mm Film/Video). National Film Board (MHP/NFB), 1986. 16 min. 16 mm film (MHP) - Loan order no. 21026. Video (NFB) - Order no. 113C0186008 ($26.95).

(CAN, I/M) Intended for classroom use, School in the Bush vividly communicates Cree values and culture, and the Cree reverence for the land. In it, a young Cree woman reflects on a unique experience: a school year spent not in a formal white school, but with her family during a traditional Cree winter in the bush. The film shows this hunting culture's way of life, from the building of the winter camp and the divisions of labour to the celebratory feasts and rituals following a successful hunt. For the Cree, life and education are the same: children team by working with their parents; schooling in the bush never stops. The film also touches on the jarring dichotomies experienced by Native children in city schools. An excellent discussion-starter on different cultures, different value systems, and optimal learning experiences.

Who's in Rabbit's House? (Print-Non-Fiction). Aardema, Verna. Dial (MCC), 1977. unp. ISBN 0-8037-9549-1 ($6.25 pbk.). Order no. SF 279C Weston Woods (WWS), 1982. 9 min. ($52.00 fs/cass.).

This Masai tale from Africa is illustrated in striking pastels and tempera by Leo and Diane Dillon. They have blended elements of African art into a theatrical format in which villagers wear animal masks to present a humorous play describing rabbit's efforts to remove a frightening creature from his house. When the force suggested by other animals fails, frog advises rabbit to use cunning. Before long, out comes the terrifying creature - a tiny caterpillar! This is a very funny, repetitive story with an ironic conclusion. A filmstrip and audiocassette are available.
